

Local Cuisine

THE FOOD CULTURE

Even though Hammond is most known for seafood and southern favorites, it also offers a variety of cuisines from around the world. Restaurants have great scenic views with dishes made from high quality, fresh, and locally sourced ingredients. Several Cajun, Creole, Italian, Hispanic, Mexican, and Asian award-winning restaurants are available in addition to the more traditionally expected. This large variety of eateries is always guaranteed to satisfy visitors and locals alike.

HAMMOND FARMERS MARKET

Every Saturday Morning

Provides a place for fresh, locally grown fruits and vegetables to be sold. Unique art and crafts can be purchased from talented local artists. An opportunity to connect with fellow members of the community.
